Due date for all materials: New info here...read it!

Submission of text, layout, photos and mls sheets on this date are required to ensure proper preparation of your ad. It is anticipated that your submittal is complete and correct.

Text & photo proof: You will receive an email of the ad layout including your text and photos. This proof provides opportunity to make critical changes within the timeline on the proof cover. Fax or email back corrections as both a list and noted on the proof itself. Necessary major text changes should be emailed. Price changes can be done up to 13 days before distribution. Major changes from original submission will be done as time permits, provided it does not delay the magazine submission for print. Photo proof process is done in conjunction with the text proof. It is important to review all text and photos regardless of their having been in the magazine before.

Distribution date marks the beginning of distribution barring uncontrollable printer, holiday, or shipping challenges not within the control of The Homes Magazine.

Note: Routine and contracted advertisers have reserved space in the magazine. If we do not hear from you, we may include your ad as it was in the prior issue. Please call us by the due date if unusual circumstances prevent you from advertising.
